FARM HANDBOOKS ON FEDERAL AND STATE SERVICES

Through arrangements between the Bureau and the Department's Office of Information, farm handbooks relating to Federal and State agricultural services in the various States are to be distributed to the principal field stations and offices of the Bureau. The handbooks have been prepared to familiarize Department employees, State specialists, county agents, and other key agricultural workers with the various official services available to farmers and the public.

The farm handbook for Maryland has already been issued and those for North Carolina, Minnesota, and California will shortly be ready for distribution. Bureau employees should familiarize themselves with the contents of these handbooks and others to be issued later, especially as they relate to Bureau work in the States concerned.
